Guidelines for Selecting Project Topic

The following guidelines must be considered before selecting an appropriate topic for your final project:

- Selection of project topic should be made by keeping in view your interest and ability to do quality work on the selected topic.
- Make sure that you can easily gather primary data on the selected topic. This is because once you get approval to do final project (through proposal) then you will not be allowed to change your project topic.

- The research should not be consisting of only on secondary data; there should be some personal effort while collecting the primary data. So the valid research should consist of both the primary as well as secondary data, but the main focus should be on primary data collection and analysis.
